

Fire-Fighters Strength Kept At Same Level

Although Edmonton's population has increased from 25,000 in 1920 to more than $25,000,000 worth of building has been done during this period, setting to the right of the fire department, not an additional fire fighter has been added to the fire brigade staff. Norman Arnold, vice president of the Edmonton Fire Fighters' union, told an audience of firemen at a meeting here last night that the city is not doing enough to keep the fire department at the same level.

"This meeting was one of a series held throughout the city by the firemen's union to keep the fire department at the same level," he said. "The fire department is the backbone of the city and it is our duty to keep it at the same level."

Support for the three-alarm system was expressed by the Edmonton Fire Fighters' union, which recently passed a resolution to keep the fire department at the same level. The resolution was passed by a vote of 100 to 0.

The fire department is the backbone of the city and it is our duty to keep it at the same level.

INTEREST CENTRES ON HIGHER TRAM FARE PLAN

Campaigning for Civic Offices Hits Full Stride

Voters Query Candidates On Vital Civic Problems At Third Election Rally

Edmonton's civic election campaign bounded into its final stages following the most successful meeting to date, held at the Albert Avenue Community Hall. Eighteen candidates spoke to an audience of 200. Addresses by some of the candidates were interrupted by questioners seeking information on items which have been sources of contention at all three civic election meetings held to date.

Subject of most concern to the audience was the question of the proposal put forth at a council meeting some months ago by Ald. Fred Mitchell that brought forward the question of considering the return to street car fare at four tickets for a quarter.

Alderman Mitchell defended his action by explaining that he has always been in favor of the 20-ticket-for-a-dollar fare, but that the four for a quarter idea would eliminate 2,000,000 transactions in handling tickets by street car conductors in the course of a year.

Conservation Objective of Plan

He stated further that the point in bringing it up was not so much in the hope of the motion being passed, as it was in bringing before the council an opportunity to study the ticket and transportation situation from all possible angles with a view of conservation of money and labor.

Dr. C. B. Willis, Civic Progressive candidate for alderman, attacked the Calgary Power agreement, stating that there isn't a single clause in the agreement that is beneficial to the city.

Several progressive candidates raised objection to the granting of a $2,000 retirement bonus to H. F. McKee, former superintendent of the direct relief department.

Mrs. Isabel Ringwood, aldermanic candidate under the C.P.A. banner, expressed the satisfaction of the voters in the city in voting the progressive banner, and urged the voters to recognize that the candidates who are "riding" on the progressive banner are simply not playing the game.

George F. Smith was chairman of the meeting. Twelve candidates contesting the aldermanic vacancies and six vying for seats on the public school board addressed the meeting.

Mrs. I. S. B. Ringwood, Civic Progressive aldermanic candidate, said: "I have listened to the C.P.A. candidates claiming credit for the Alaska highway, for the extension of the airport, for the prosperity of the war has brought to Edmonton, I feel that we should all retire and leave the field for them."

There is one action of these miracle men, however, which surprised, bewildered, displeased me. I understand that all the C.P.A. aldermen, except one, voted in favor of a $2,000 bonus to Mr. McKee. Why is that? Do all retiring civic employees from the city service receive such consideration?

We can only conclude that it was done because he pleased them by the time he was elected.

Cold Sore Throat
Sore throat, tonsillitis, laryngitis, pharyngitis, influenza, colds, and all other throat troubles. Gargle with two tablets dissolved in water. Go to bed and rest. Eat soft food. Use a throat lozenge. You may avoid a disagreeable cold.

DR. CHASE'S PARADOX
These people are paying a total of $100,000,000 for the city of Edmonton. They are sufficient numbers to collect other houses are built. When old people are receiving only a very limited amount in old age pensions it should be made possible for them to live in comfort on the amount allowed them. We should have at least 100,000 houses. The present housing scheme was originally a federal relief scheme.

The federal government was to pay $100,000, the provincial government was to pay $100,000. The province refused to give their amount and as a result an extra burden fell upon the city. Our old people who have been doing the heaviest loads of this country suffer as a result and are entitled to better treatment.

ated as a result and are entitled to better treatment. A. D. A. BISSETT, Citizens' Committee aldermanic candidate, said: "I have listened to the C.P.A. aldermen, except one, voted in favor of a $2,000 bonus to Mr. McKee. Why is that? Do all retiring civic employees from the city service receive such consideration?"

With regard to some question that has been asked me about the power agreement, I read through the agreement and learned that the Calgary Power and the city of Edmonton have agreed to a power purchase agreement which is favorable to the city. The Calgary Power pays us one-quarter of a cent per kilowatt hour, which costs us three times that much to produce it. And I notice the company doesn't have to supply us with power if our plant breaks down.

A. D. SIDNEY PARSONS, Citizens' Committee aldermanic candidate, said: "When I came to the city four years ago I didn't make any promises to you; neither did I two years ago, and I'm not going to now. But I will say that I'll do everything in my power for the benefit of the city. I have been doing a pay-as-you-go basis. There is the extension of the power plant, the establishment of rental control, controlling the construction of a fire hall on 118 avenue to serve North Edmonton, and the highway department's road rehabilitation program."

I am asking you to support me. These are the things that I have been doing in the past. I have been doing a pay-as-you-go basis. There is the extension of the power plant, the establishment of rental control, controlling the construction of a fire hall on 118 avenue to serve North Edmonton, and the highway department's road rehabilitation program."

At this point David Duncan, aldermanic candidate, said: "Can you tell me whether the Citizens' Committee had anything to do with the voters in Egypt this week?"

If you were in the last war you would know the answer. I was in the last war and I have a scar in this one, too," Mr. Duncan declared.

A. D. SIDNEY PARSONS, Citizens' Committee aldermanic candidate, said: "I have had the honor of serving on the last two city council sessions. One thing that can be said about the city council is the policy of the city land department. It should be brought up-to-date now that real estate is becoming valuable."

We have done considerable work on council during the past year. We have set aside sites for park purposes. I have been a member of the baseball commission for two years and we are gradually building up Renfrew Park and converting it into a city park.

STREET CAR FARE
David Duncan asked the speaker whether he had asked for an increase in street car fare. Ald. Mitchell said that when the question of increased salaries for city employees was being considered, city commissioners recommended a four-for-quarter rate instead of a five-for-quarter rate. In order to bring the matter up for discussion, Mr. Mitchell said he had moved for a four-for-quarter rate and with the $1 book of 20 tickets being retained. As it was pointed out that this would not produce the revenue required, the motion was tabled.

DR. G. A. GEMEROY, Citizens' Committee school board candidate, said: "During 1941 the children of Edmonton were inspected for medical defects, chiefly external ones. The inspection was a 'going over' for defects of a more serious nature."

A total of 800 children received medical inspection and 4,207 got the complete "going over."

Parents were asked to be present and received great value for their opportunity to see the inspection of their children. Though the inspection is a start the more important work to do is to take the right steps in the correction of the defects.

WILLIAM J. TREE, C.P.A.-Labor school board candidate, said: "The school board does not receive proper recognition. It has always seemed to go to the mortgage corporations to get the cash. That should not be so. Let us make the education of our children one of our first considerations."

I think it will pay big dividends. Education is not only learning a few academic subjects, it also means the child's mental and physical development in different situations as they arise.

RISE OF FASCISM
Ladies and gentlemen, I maintain that it was the ignorance of the mass of people in Germany that was responsible for the rise of fascism in that country. We can not afford to take chances here.

Let us do our best to make access to higher education as easy as possible for the children of the poor people. The rich will look after their own.

I have pointed out at two previous meetings that the cost of text books and supplies will mean a slight increase in taxation, as the books are supplied by the government in bulk quantities at a great reduction in price. That is why the C.P.A.-Labor party are stressing a policy of free education.

A. L. MARKS, Civic Progressive Association public school board candidate, said: "Last night I tried to find time for a discussion of the general question of education, and the specific direction in which it ought to move."

Tonight I hope you will pardon me for indulging in a little bit of criticism. The criticism I wish to offer is directed squarely at you, voters. I am sure you will be able to help me.

POWER KNOW GRAD
I wonder how many people who pay school taxes in this city are aware of the fact that the money they pay as taxes is being used to pay the salaries of the teachers. I have been told recently that a prominent citizen of this city not only did not pay school taxes, but he was taking in the high school, but he did not even know what grade he was in.

We have in this city 36 school buildings, containing some 600 rooms, many of which are furnished with certain special equipment and many others of which require to be so furnished for the sake of efficiency.

Most important, however, of all these things is that we have a teaching staff in this city that is probably unequaled anywhere else, either in Alberta or in any other part of the world.

I suggest we have so much at stake which is so much more valuable than the money we have been doing in the past in the whole question of education.

MRS. W. J. ROSS, Citizens' Committee public school board candidate, said: "I have lived in Eastwood for 15 years. I am asking again for your support. I have been a member of the school board. I have already served before, and I know that I am doing the best I can for the school. I served ten years on the hospital board and one year on the city council—three first woman aldermen."

14,500 STUDENTS
The school board provides education for 14,500 students in the academic and technical schools, in the vocational schools, and in the night schools for those who on account of some physical disability are unable to attend regular classes.

In the medical department each child receives two complete physical examinations. A staff of trained nurses is employed and one feature of the work has been the successful campaign against diphtheria. The results are known to everyone. The school board is doing a very good job.

known among our school children today. This department looks after the health of the students and in cases of actual necessity provides the necessary treatment. Where children are found to be underweight the department advises increased supply of milk. Last year about $2,000 was spent on this.

The cost to the board at the present time for supplies and text books given to the students is $40,000 for supplies and $28,000 for text books. If the board furnished all supplies and text books at all grades the cost would be an additional $88,000.

MRS. EDITH ROGERS, C.P.A.-Labor school board candidate, said: "I have been a member of the school board for five years. I think I should tell you a little about myself and why I am in the progressive movement. I took my first high school education in Nova Scotia. I came to Alberta in 1913. I attended normal school and taught school for five years in Alberta."

ON BANK STAFF
For six years I was a teller on the staff of a bank. I was a member of the Alberta legislature from 1925 to 1940.

During my service on the staff of the bank I saw the inflation period when instructions were to "get out the loans" and encourage borrowers in the country districts to buy and invest at the high prices. The interest rate on private loans was 10 per cent. I saw those loans called in, in the depression period, with the price of that same land and livestock down to rock bottom. The banks made a mad rush to take security on the land.

During all this system has to offer, taxation, poverty and war. That is five years I was a member of the Alberta legislature. I fought for a better deal for the unemployed and the returned men. Unless we change this system we will have the same thing after this war.

The public ownership of the schools in Edmonton has shown the benefits of public ownership. It has shown the benefits of the school to the major industries. Production should be for the use of all and for the benefit of the people. This is why I am running on the C.P.A.-Labor platform. I urge your support.

W. G. MCNEACAN, Citizens' Committee public school board candidate, said: "I have heard considerable to date about the question of the school board. I have heard for all grades in the schools. As you are now spending $300,000 for the school board, I think it is time to look at the school board as an increasing their expenditure above what they are at present. I think it is time to look at the school board as an increasing their expenditure above what they are at present. I think it is time to look at the school board as an increasing their expenditure above what they are at present."

EXTRA SERVICE
We are all interested in taxes, but sometimes an extra dollar here and there is not so important as extra service and I and my colleagues are urging all street car service due to the restrictions on gasoline and rubber.

The Citizens' Committee voted Mr. McKee a $2,000 honorarium on his retirement from the service. While I am not against this practice, I think in this case they were a bit generous.

Some of the dance halls in Edmonton are a disgrace to the city and something should be done about it. We are asking you to support the people who stand for the people.

How Much More?

Edmonton has gone "over the top." So has Alberta. So has the Dominion in each case the Victory Loan quota has been over-subscribed. But the quotas were set low. They represented the minimum requirements. It was hoped for more than the $750,000,000 suggested would be forthcoming, and that this province and city would put up their shares of the extra amount.

It has been no secret that a thousand millions was the mark the Minister of Finance really had in mind. Thursday night the total stood at $821,965,550. The mark is therefore in sight. It can be reached if each does his bit. It will be reached if everyone rightly appreciates the opportunity he is offered to lay aside a few dollars, or a few more dollars, where they will be safe until he needs them.

The Air Cadets

Air Marshal Bishop appealed to the Toronto board of education to rescind an order which closed a school gymnasium to air force cadets. He met with only partial success. The board agreed to allow present members of the cadet corps to continue to use the gymnasium, but only present members, to use the gym. That does not seem to reflect any great enthusiasm in Toronto for the air cadets.

This grudging concession is the more strange because Mr. Bishop told the board he does not know how the air force can keep drawing the recruits it needs unless the cadet corps is a success.

It had been expected, the Marshal said, that the Commonwealth Training plan would draw many more young men from Britain, from Australia and from New Zealand than have been coming here for training. War conditions have of course made this unexpected, and the air force is the man power of these countries and their young men are needed at home.

This means that "The only source we can rely on (for recruits) is the youth of Canada." This is something for Canada's department of defence, selective service branch, and the public at large to take into account. Canada's contribution to the particular war job to supply trained armies in thousands every year, and has built up a costly and highly efficient training agency with that end in view.

Whatever happens, or has to be allowed to happen, we must not let Britain and the Allies down by failing to encourage Canadian boys to keep the air schools full.

The Turn?

With United States troops on the attack in Guadalcanal and the Australians in New Guinea, the Russians holding everywhere, and Rommel's African Korps everywhere racing with the Axis tanks for the wide open spaces of the Libyan desert, the war picture is visibly changing. On all fronts the enemy is being lured to go on the defensive. The Allies have cause to know that the defensive side doesn't win.

We may be at the turn of the tide, as the Marshal General suggests. The plenty of hard fighting ahead; it would be dangerous folly to suppose the contrary. But for the time the Axis march has been stopped; and the enemy has to stand the shock of the counter-blow. Into those blows the Allied leaders will of course put all the weight of men and equipment they can muster. If with any reason be hoped that when the war of position is broken the movement will be toward Britain and Rome and Tokyo.

Signor Gaidy at Rome and Herr Goebbels at Berlin both seem to have a uneasy feeling that there is trouble in the wind, and their opposite number in the Japanese capital as curiously quiet at present. Gaidy has stopped planning rainbows and is warning the Italian that Axis must be the starting point of an invasion of Muscovite, while Goebbels is uttering daily about the possible significance of the "125" British "war" tanks and great fleet of transport at Gibraltar.

This change from portentous threats and predictions of new Axis drives is very noticeable. It indicates that the Axis headquarters that the blithering days are drawing to a close.

Retribution

The basic problem of General Montgomery in North Africa is much like that of Hitler in the West. He must win a decisive battle to destroy the enemy, not merely to win battles, gaining ground in the desert or in the expanding circle of Russia, a technique Hitler failed to master the Russian army, and in failing to do so he has lost his campaign. Winston Churchill's words are ringing in the ears of the British army of the future. A good deal will depend on whether the pursuing forces are making more headway than the retreating forces. There is a fair chance therefore that the army which was sent to capture Alexandria will be permanently demobilized.

It will be no fault of the pursuers if that is not the outcome, for they have been straining the fleet to the limit without ceasing. The correspondents have been restrained in their descriptions of the scene, but enough has been said to make clear that the have been fearful. The scanty accounts recall other despatches, which told of Nazi airmen two years and more ago roaring along the highway in northern France with their machine guns pouring death into crowds of men, women and children; of the horrible story of Rotterdam where Nazi troops killed 20,000 civilians; of the massacre of civilians in Britain by the indiscriminate bombing of the Luftwaffe; of the harrowing stories which came from Warsaw, from Czechoslovakia, from Greece, from Abyssinia. German and Italian soldiers in the desert are paying an installment of the penalty for those crimes.

Buy a poppy. These are made by veterans of the last war who are partially disabled and have not many means of earning money, and the proceeds are shared with war widows and orphans. No cause could be more worthy of help. And everyone will want one of these emblems to wear on Remembrance Day.

Ten million Axis soldiers killed or permanently disabled on the Russian front seems like a fanciful notion. But it comes from the propaganda chief of the central committee at Moscow. If it is anywhere near the Mark Hitler has solved the problem of what to do with Germany's surplus youth.

The news that Turkey is to sell chrome to the Krupp munitions works and take payment in armament does not sound good. Germany undoubtedly needs this chrome, but it is not likely to part with it except as a pawn in a political bargain. The Germans, who have been warring both sides for its own benefit, will stand some watching by the Allied Governments. Von Papen has not been spending his time and money here for his health.

A special train was ordered from Winnipeg which took on a squad of Mounted Police at Portage La Prairie. The train reached Minnesota at 10:30 p.m. and the marchers were taken to the city and held in the city hall.

Efficiency of Our Equipment Demonstrated in Drive

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The last great pains to build himself up as a person of superior qualities and attainments. Indeed the superman tradition among the Germans goes back into old history. The Gods, the Valhalla, the Völsung, the Hun and all the various heroes of the German people were the result of the delusion of superiority, and the obsession has run, like a sin, through the history of the German people.

Metzger and other German philosophers say: Harold L. Weir has written the most complete and accurate history of the world. The earth, they taught, was to be dominated by a race of supermen whose ruling passion was to be strength and power.

Nourished on this glorious story, the Germans ran amok in 1914. In a few more deadly years, they resumed their attempted conquest of the world in 1937. They believed they were the chosen of God, the all mankind. They believed they were invincible.

The most horrible and disheartening things ever to happen to free people were that the Germans, who had inspired to make it appear that their might actually be something to this terrible story.

India's Textile Industries

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Instead of brooding over the political situation today in India let us look back at the textile industry in the past.

For those who look at the causal relation of textile industry and their heads helplessly, it is bracing to realize that a civilization as old as India is not likely to fall into complete chaos overnight.

India, the source of cotton, had for a century been a source of raw cotton. Its rules were so exact that it was a good antidote for wartime Italy. It also helps us to understand the textile industry in our international thinking.

New Wave of Confidence through African Victory

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The German invasion broke over Europe in 1940. The weight of manpower and equipment from Hitler's army advanced into France, Denmark and Norway. Men fought that all the material advantages on his side, that his victories had very logical explanations. And, in spite of them, they began to absorb some of that same superstitious obsession that stimulated the German troops.

No one said so, no one dared to say, but the fear gradually grew an elusive notion that this time the democracies might step into some sort of a trap beyond their capacity to control.

Finally, then, the moral value of the victory in North Africa is even greater than its military value.

For what it has done is this: It has destroyed for our generation that ludicrous and vicious myth of German superiority. It has shown that the German machine of German inferiority.

Confidence

Great as is the strategic value of Montgomery's amazing feat of arms, it is a still greater thing that when our fellows meet the best of the enemy face to face, we have the advantage.

Man for man, our forces are the best. Our equipment is the best. Our gun for gun, our equipment is the most effective.

A great wave of hope and cheer will be the result of this victory.

For everyone knows now that the British Empire is not a myth. It is a reality. It is a reality that the British Empire is not a myth. It is a reality that the British Empire is not a myth.

For everyone knows now that the British Empire is not a myth. It is a reality. It is a reality that the British Empire is not a myth. It is a reality that the British Empire is not a myth.

Side Glances

By Galbraith

The superman myth was shaken when the British resisted the terrific German bombardment in August and September 1940. The myth was shaken still more during the subsequent R.A.F. raids on Germany. It took a further blow when the Germans failed to subdue the Russian army.

In every direct contact with the enemy, the German claim of inferiority has been broken. The myth of German superiority has been broken. The myth of German superiority has been broken.

For what it has done is this: It has destroyed for our generation that ludicrous and vicious myth of German superiority. It has shown that the German machine of German inferiority.

Fishing

SAULT STE. MARIE, ST. R.

From Manselton, on the shore of Lake Superior, 80 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie, St. R. Highway, comes word of those stories which help illustrate the life of the national war effort.

It is the story of Jack and Dorothy Beardon, Jack, a commercial fisherman who has worked at this trade for many years in commercial fishing on the Great Lakes.

Jack is now in the Canadian forces. Dorothy, his wife, has taken his place in the fishing boat and is now working with the armed forces. There are scores of such adjustments to be found in this district. Thousands of them throughout Canada.

Peace for India will bring these time-honoured arts, revive the use some of the fabulous quality of fine textiles that is often lost in busy mass-production war days.

Timely Suggestions
I can't resist passing these household hints on to you. Give the bride-to-be a shower of canned goods and preserves to stock up her new pantry. Cans and jars of fruits, vegetables, preserves, jams and preserves, as well as other canned goods, will make a welcome gift.

If you wish presents to have a good use, give them to the Red Cross. A box of canned goods with cream or butter, or a box of canned goods, will make a welcome gift.

When buying canned beef, add a small onion, a pinch of ginger, a pinch of salt, and a pinch of pepper. This will make a welcome gift.

Conny Smythe's Battery of Athletes Arrives in England

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, Nov. 7.—(BUP)—"Conny" Smythe, the pipey manager in other years of the Toronto Maple Leafs' hockey team, has arrived in England to lead a team of hardbitten sportsmen into the toughest game of all, it was revealed here Friday.

Smythe, a major in the 30th anti-aircraft battery, wears the wings he earned as a Royal Air Force pilot in the last war. His son, Sub. Lt. Col. Stafford Smythe, is now attending the naval officers college in Milford. The ranks of Smythe's battery are well sprinkled with outstanding athletes, most of them from the Toronto area. The second in command is Capt. Jim Beck, former Ontario golf champion.

Most noted athlete enrolled in the former grid and star sports writer, Ted Reeve. Ted, a bombastic writer, was raised among the outdoors, inside wins in Canadian rugby history. He starred with the old Toronto Argonauts in the '20s and later on built a wide reputation as a sport columnist with the Toronto Telegram.

FROM EXPERIENCE
Reeve, incidentally, believes there will be a great resurgence of sport following this war. "The boys that get out of uniform will be tough as nails and with a great spirit. They'll produce fine competitive games. I know—I played against the young veterans of the first Great War in the early twenties and they were a hard bunch on the playing field."

Another noted sports writer with the battery is Sgt. Ralph Allen, whose column, "One Man's Opinion," was well known in the Winnipeg Tribune. Later on, Ralph wrote a satirical and humorous column, "Mostly Indignation," for the Toronto Globe and Mail. He and Reeve were regarded as among the highest paid sports writers in Canada. Other former athletes serving in Smythe's "Sportsmen's Battery" are: L. H. Ovi, Jack Williams and Gnr. Archie Dixon, outstanding lacrosse players who took part in the Dominion lacrosse finals this year.

Sports . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Now that it seems reasonably sure the Rose Bowl football game will go on as usual New Year's Day, we'd like to sit on the dicker for teams to play in the various bowls. . . . Ought to provide some of the season's best fun. . . . The Rose Bowl still carries the greatest prestige, but somehow we just can't see a team putting up a size guarantee from New Orleans or Dallas this year just to sit and wait for the strenuous call from Pasadena.

There's still a chance that another kind of strenuous might start just as long as the cross figures the game and the crowd won't interfere with anything connected with the war. And while we hardly expect trouble, that possibility will give the other bowl a swell selling point. . . . Come to think of it, we wonder what sort of chances the colleges will take on Miami's having a winter business to make the Orange Bowl profitable, or if they will give a darn about Bowl games by that time.

Meanwhile, the rule is not adopted, most major clubs that will automatically suffer because we would have to draft new men from our short notice. An increase in the limit means we would not have to call on the minor suddenly and often. Thus, the competition in the minors, at least, would remain on a fairly even keel.

Rose Bowl Classic May Be Played New Year's Day

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 7.—(AP)—The guessing can start, folks. They're going to play the Rose Bowl game here again next New Year's Day, all things being equal.

The Associated Press learned from an unimpeachable source Friday that while formal application for permission to play has not yet been acted on by the army, there is no objection to the 28th renewal of the classic, oldest and most famous of the United States post-season bowl games.

Last year's contest, coming in the midst of huge military preparations on the west coast, was moved to Durham, N.C. Oregon State defeated Duke, 20-16.

The postponement of the Pacific Coast Conference game is extremely apt to be a service team. The Iowa, North Carolina and St. Mary's Pre-

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(BUP)—We predict that the Major League player limit will be raised from the current 25 to 27 at the annual league meetings next month in Chicago, as a duration measure.

The change will be accompanied by steaming debate in the separate circuit sessions, before the National and American leagues, merge in a joint meeting. The proposed increase in playing personnel has many vigorous opponents in both divisions.

Despite these for and against apostles in each league, the tide probably will be turned by suggestions from Commissioner Kinnear Landis, reflecting wishes of the International League and American Association.

UNQUESTIONABLY the International circuit and the American Association clubs will enlarge their active player limit to add to their personnel from lower circuits that have gone out of business because of service demands. Yet, hardly a manager in either minor circuit who does not hope that the majors will vote to increase their player limits. They know, full well, that the players optioned to them by the major league clubs.

Major league owners are divided in their opinions on the desirability of a player-limit increase. Some of them even lean backwards and seek a downward revision in which the limit will be 20 men instead of 25. President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants has come out for an increase to 27. He will be the next couple of weeks trying to bring Branch Rickey, head of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to his side. And Rickey's voice will bear more weight now than it has for some time. Rickey's voice will bear more weight now than it has for some time. Rickey's voice will bear more weight now than it has for some time.

HOWEVER, the two Philadelphia teams, the Phils and the Athletics, based by Gerry Nugent and Connie Mack, respectively, are on the other side of the fence. They consider smaller squads. Their attitude is understandable, because smaller squads would reduce the risk of competition and because the Quaker clubs more serious competitors in the respective circuits.

Nugent has been reported as believing that the number of players should be limited to 20. And there is an entirely unfounded rumor that President Ed Barrow of the New York Yankees, shares the same belief.

Both factions use "wartime emergencies" as the basis of their campaigns. Stoneham of the Giants says: "We should be allowed to carry more than 25 players because a club can lose four or five valuable men in a few days. Hence replacements should be readily available."

But if the minor league clubs will automatically suffer because we would have to draft new men from our short notice. An increase in the limit means we would not have to call on the minor suddenly and often. Thus, the competition in the minors, at least, would remain on a fairly even keel.

By Jack Cuddy

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Military District No. 10 announced Friday that final arrangements for a three-team Winnipeg Senior Hockey League have been completed with the schedule tentatively slated to begin Nov. 25.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By REVEREND A. B. PATTERSON
Pastor, First Church of the Nazarene
Edmonton

The Right Way

FOR the past twenty-three years, on the eleventh of November, we have bowed our heads and hearts in memory of those who so nobly laid down their lives in our defence. They died to preserve "a way of life." Those great souls are not forgotten, but live, enshrined within our hearts, giving inspiration and courage as again we face the foe and battle in the defence of those things we cherish more than life itself.

Our fathers and sons again are rallying to the call—they say the sea, they fly in the air, they march on the land to defend "a way of life." What is this way of life for which we fight, and for which thousands are laying down their lives? May it be the way spoken of by the one of old when he said, "He led them forth by the right way."

THE WAY OF PEACE. "Peace is the happy, natural state of man; war, corruption and disgrace," said Thompson. Two nations, long enemies, one day created a great statue of Christ upon the mountain top between them, and as the statue was unveiled, the soldiers marched across and stood guard upon the other border, and peace was secured. "He shall be called the Prince of Peace," Christ—the only alternative to war.

THE WAY OF LOVE. A picture of the Christ hung in a famous art gallery. An Egyptian stood and gazed upon the lovely face, and with tears coursing down his cheeks whispered, "I love Him." Others joined him until a veritable league of nations was formed in front of the Christ. Love was forgotten, neither came it to the aid of their fellows. "He led them forth by the right way," the way of love.

THE WAY OF RIGHTEOUSNESS. "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." We are fighting for "a way of life." Righteousness, Christian principles, but God grants us the right to God—let us get back to the Bible, to church, to righteous and godly living—then, the sacrifice of human lives will not be in vain.

CITY OF EDMONTON

MEMORANDUM PREPARED BY THE CITY COMMISSIONERS IN CONNECTION WITH The Proposed Three Platoon System for the City Fire Department IN ACCORDANCE WITH INSTRUCTIONS OF COUNCIL

By an amendment to the Fire Department's Two Platoon Act, passed in 1931, it is stated in effect that the Council of a city may amend to the electors a bylaw to establish a three platoon system and an 8 hour day in a Municipal Fire Department, or alternatively, that if a petition is presented signed by not less than 10 per cent of the number of electors who voted at the last preceding municipal election, the Council shall submit such bylaw to the electors.

In 1939 the City firemen approached the Council to establish a three platoon system, which in effect means an 8 hour day or 48 hour week, but the question was held in abeyance by reason of the outbreak of war.

Now the firemen have requested, and the City Council agreed, that a bylaw be submitted to the electors containing the provision that the three platoon system will not be introduced until after cessation of hostilities.

The firemen at present work a six day week, sixty hours per week on day shift, and eighty-four hours per week on night shift. However, firemen on night duty are allowed to sleep in quarters provided by the City, but are subject to immediate call. No fire department in Canada has a three platoon system today, but certain cities in the United States already operate under this system.

Fire fighters in British Columbia, however, work a five day week, on the two platoon, or rotating shift system, with no overtime without any decrease in their pay, this is by legislation passed by their Provincial Government.

The cost of operating the department at present is $234,850 per annum, including cost-of-living bonus for the men. This would be increased during the first year of operation of the three platoon system by $66,750, and during the 4th year of operation (as new firemen's wages increase according to scale) the cost will go up by another $24,250, making a total of $325,850. If and when the cost-of-living bonus terminates, this latter cost will be reduced by $11,350 per annum.

These anticipated totals are more or less approximate, and the City Commissioners cannot guarantee that Fire Department expenditures will be held to the stated totals, inasmuch as the department is at present under-staffed, and there will undoubtedly be some increase in cost when the department is brought to the necessary strength. This will take place irrespective of the operation of the three platoon system.

The above statement has been submitted to and approved by the Firemen's representatives.

Policemen Ask Protection of Compensation

Submission that a policeman should be considered on duty while travelling to and from work was made at the week-end to the special committee of the legislature appointed to review the Alberta Workmen's Compensation (Accident Fund) Act.

The brief containing this submission was presented by the City of Edmonton Police Men's Association and was spoken to by Constable John Condon, secretary of the association, and Constables Ken Murray and Alex Keating.

CANT CLAIM. It was pointed out that under the present act a policeman is not considered on duty while travelling to and from work; he therefore is unable to claim compensation if he is injured through a mishap occurring at such times.

It was claimed that in effect a policeman is on duty while he is between his home and the station and should therefore receive compensation protection under the act.

T. E. Garfield, K.C., city solicitor, who announced Saturday that retail stores, except those specially exempted, would have to observe the Remembrance Day holiday and also Boxing Day, Dec. 26.

Under existing provincial legislation Edmonton's retail stores, except those specially exempted by the recent Dominion order-in-council, will have to close on Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, and Boxing Day, Dec. 26.

In a statement issued Saturday morning by Thomas E. Garfield, K.C., city solicitor, the situation as regards closing of retail stores was clarified following a visit Friday afternoon by members of the Retail Merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce in which such clarification was requested.

Mr. Garfield's statement follows: "As there appears to be some uncertainty among proprietors of Edmonton's retail stores regarding the status of Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, and Boxing Day, Dec. 26, as holidays in Edmonton, it seems desirable that an official statement concerning the matter should be issued."

"The Alberta Interpretation Act the two days mentioned are declared to be public holidays."

IN CHARTER. "The terms of the Edmonton charter retail stores are required to observe the day of the day (as declared by the Alberta Interpretation Act) as a public holiday."

"The recent Dominion order in council did not change the legal status as far as acts of the province are concerned and the provincial legislature is not expected to move until early next year to deal with the matter, hence retail, except those classes exempted, are legally required to close on its members Day and Boxing Day."

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION. Will the defeat of the German and Italian armies in North Africa lead to the establishment of a second front in Italy and Southern France?

PATRICK MORAN, truck driver. The gathering of large forces at the entrance to the Mediterranean Sea would seem to indicate that a push is being contemplated. The recent bombings of Italy might indicate that an attempt to further soften the weak Italian front for the invasion was in progress.

HARRY NIXON, clerk. The men released from the North African theatre after mopping-up operations have been conscripted to be utilized in second front operations. I cannot say when or where a second front will be started. After the North African victory I think there will be less grumbling about the United Nations war tactics.

WILLIAM MORRIS, bookkeeper. It might be a sound idea to invade Italy; and establish a bridgehead on the coast of Southern France. I guess the fortifications on the French coast are not nearly so formidable as those on the shores opposite Britain. This might be the time to strike and Italy and Southern France the places to strike at.

The November meeting of the Edmonton Public Library Board will be held in the Board room on Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 8:15 p.m.

Getting Around with Jack DeLong

The rampaging 8th British Army is putting on the greatest display of the mechanized offensive might yet given by a British force in the present war. And it seems that their offensives in force are in the making. It would not surprise so many people if another allied force struck savagely at the rear of the fleeing Axis desert forces. It seems as if the Germans greatly fear this very thing.

Canada's Ammunition Production Soars to Millions of Rounds Per Month Shells and Bombs Pour Out of Hundreds of Plants from Coast to Coast

Shaving a 7.2-inch howitzer shell on a giant lathe. The Dominion's ammunition factories make 18 types of shells in 14 different calibres. They employ 50,000.

Canadian-built guns use Canadian-made shells. In the top photo, a Canadian 25-pounder gun is being fired with Canadian ammunition. Women play a vital role in the shell industry. Girl in bottom photograph, formerly a tea room attendant, inspects 25-pounder shells in Canada's largest shell factory in Ontario.

Before Dunkirk, Canada had virtually no ammunition industry, but today she is turning out tremendous quantities of shells, bombs and other projectiles.

Depth charges which spell doom for Nazi submarines are manufactured on the Pacific Coast. The Dominion has spent $100,000,000 on facilities for the production of ammunition, and basic materials required for its manufacture.

Here are a few of the shells made in Canada: Front row—40 mm ack-ack; 37 mm 6-pounder, and 75 mm anti-tank. Back row—25 pounder; 3.7-inch anti-aircraft; 4.5-inch; 6-inch howitzer; 5.5-inch; 7.2-inch howitzer, and 9.2-inch howitzer.

Production of hand grenades in an Ontario factory. More than 150 Canadian arsenals are manufacturing projectiles for the army, navy and air force.

Output of Dominion Arsenal consists of several million rounds of small arms ammunition per month, including 8 types of .303-inch, 5 other calibres. Fuses, cartridge cases, primers and gages are other large-scale production items.

Jars of death from a Canadian bomb factory, largest in the British Empire. In a year, it turns out more than 100,000 of these 500-pound aerial bombs. Canada also produces practice bombs, and seven types of trench mortar bombs.

Applying paint on 3.7-inch anti-aircraft shells, one of many produced under the vast shell and bomb program of the Department of Munitions and Supply.
